FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

JULY 31, 2012

Independent Auditors' Report

To the Directors of Pride Toronto

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Pride Toronto, which comprise the balance sheet as at July 31, 2012, and the statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide for a basis for our qualified audit opinion.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

In common with many not-for-profit organizations, Pride Toronto derives revenues from donations and fundraising. In addition, Pride Toronto derives revenues from beverage sales. The completeness of these revenues is not susceptible to satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of these revenues was limited to the amounts recorded in the accounting records of Pride Toronto, and we were not able to determine whether any adjustments might be necessary to donations and fundraising revenues, beverage sales, excess of revenues over expenses, assets, liabilities and net assets.

Qualified Opinion

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the Basis of Qualified Opinion paragraph, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Pride Toronto as at July 31, 2012, and the results of its operations, changes in net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Notes to Financial Statements

July 31, 2012

1. ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS

Pride Toronto ("PRIDE") is a not-for-profit organization incorporated without share capital on March 19, 1999 under the laws of Ontario to promote the LGBTTIQQ2SA (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transsexual, Transgender, Intersex, Queer/Questioning, 2spirited, Allies) communities.

As a not-for-profit organization, PRIDE is exempt from income taxes under the Income Tax Act (Canada).

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These financial statements are the representation of management and have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Basis of accounting

The accounts are prepared using the accrual basis of accounting, whereby revenues and expenses are recognized in the year they are earned or incurred respectively, whether or not such transactions have been settled by the receipt or payment of money.

Comparative figures

Certain 2011 comparative figures have been reclassified to conform with 2012 financial statement presentation. These reclassifications have no impact on the 2011 deficiency of revenues over expenses previously reported.

Revenue recognition

Revenues are recognized when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

PRIDE follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions, including grants. Under the deferral method, grants and contributions received in the year for expenditures to be incurred in the following year are recorded as deferred revenues on the balance sheet.

Non-monetary exchanges of goods and services are recorded at the fair market value of consideration received, as agreed upon by PRIDE and its vendors.

Capital assets

Capital assets are recorded at cost and are amortized over their estimated useful lives. The annual amortization rates and methods are as follows:

Equipment	20% declining balance
Furniture and fixtures	20% declining balance
Computer equipment	20% declining balance
Equipment under capital leases – computers	20% declining balance

Capital asset expenditures individually in excess of $1,000 are capitalized.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Financial instruments

PRIDE recognizes and classifies its financial instruments as follows:

- cash and bank indebtedness are classified as held-for-trading financial assets, and are measured at fair value, with changes in fair value recognized as they occur in the statement of operations;
- amounts receivable are classified as loans and receivables, and are measured at amortized cost, which is generally the initially recognized amount, less any allowance for doubtful accounts;
- accounts payable and accrued liabilities are classified as other liabilities and are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

Contributed services

Volunteers contribute many hours annually to assist PRIDE in carrying out its activities. Because of the difficulty of determining their fair value, contributed services are not recognized in the financial statements.

Measurement uncertainty

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. These estimates are reviewed periodically and adjustments are made to revenues and expenses as appropriate in the period they become known.

3. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Cash consists of cash on hand and on deposit in bank accounts held at a major Canadian bank.

The fair value of PRIDE's amounts receivable and accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximates their carrying value due to the relatively short term to maturity of those instruments.

PRIDE is exposed to various risks through its financial instruments. Credit risk on amounts receivable is mitigated by close monitoring of outstanding balances and assessment of estimated realizable value.

PRIDE has available a demand revolving line of credit in the amount of $300,000 bearing interest at the bank prime rate plus 2.50%. This credit facility is secured by a general security agreement.

The bank covenant includes an obligation to maintain a balanced budget annually. At July 31, 2011, PRIDE was in compliance with this bank covenant.

Interest expense of $4,393 (2011 - $15,105) on the line of credit is classified as general and administration expense in the statement of operations.

5. CAPITAL LEASE OBLIGATIONS

The capital leases are recorded at an amount equal to the present value of the lease payments using the interest rate implicit in the leases. The implicit interest rate of these obligations is 13% and they mature from October 2012 to December 2012. The following is a schedule of future minimum lease payments under capital leases.

2013	$ 6,405
Total future minimum lease payments	6,405
Less amount representing interest	676
Present value of minimum net lease payments	$ 5,729

Interest of $2,200 (2011 - $ 4,464) was paid on capital leases during the year. This interest is classified as general and administration expense in the statement of operations. The obligations under capital leases are secured by liens on the computer equipment leased.

6. COMMITMENTS

PRIDE has entered into a lease agreement to rent its office space until March 31, 2015 and a lease for an office photocopier. Lease payments to the expiry date of these leases are as follows:

2013	141,121
2014	147,121
2015	98,405

7. CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

In managing capital, PRIDE focuses on liquid resources available for operations. PRIDE's objective is to have sufficient liquid resources to continue operating despite adverse financial events and to provide it with the flexibility to take advantage of opportunities that will advance its mission. The need for sufficient liquid resources is considered in the preparation of an annual budget and in the monitoring of cash flows and actual operating results compared to budget.

PRIDE also has available a demand revolving line of credit in the amount of $300,000, as described in Note 3.

As at July 31, 2012, PRIDE has met its objective of having sufficient liquid resources to meet its current obligations.
